OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov 22 1865

Mr Colfax has set all the politicians to talking by making a speech on the steps of the National Hotel. The ex-Speaker is a very frank man and is not in the habit of concealing his sentiments upon any subject, and even now, with the feverishness of the public mind on the subject of reconstruction and Mr Colfax a candidate for re-election as Speaker, (certain of his re-election, we may add,) he does not hesitate to avow his opinions on the pertinent questions of the day. Some of his preliminary remarks were not reported. They had reference to his overland journey. He was not complimentary to Brigham Young and the Mormons generally, but spoke in the highest terms of the Pacific coast. He also announced his purpose to deliver a lecture in Washington upon the subject of his overland trip; so we shall hear him more fully upon that subject hereafter.

Mr Colfax thinks the Southern claimants must wait till they can represent a more loyal people than they do at present. As Mr Colfax is regarded as somewhat conservative (for a good Republican) on subjects growing out of the question of slavery, there is not a little curiosity on the part of the public to know what his views are. It is now tolerably certain that Congress will not admit the Southern claimants before spring, and quite possibly not till another session. There is a very strong feeling of indignation against the Southern people at the way in which they have met the wonderful generosity of the President. Nearly every Legislature at the South opposes any sort of protection to the freedmen, though the President has earnestly urged them to do so. Gen Howard returned here on Saturday night from an extended tour through the South, and is now engaged on his report. I hear on good authority that he is convinced by his trip that it is not safe to withdraw our troops from the States recently in rebellion, and that the Freedmen's Bureau must be continued in force at the South for some time to come. This is the judgment of Gen Howard. From another quarter we have the opinion of Speaker Colfax. This all looks like make my haste slowly in the business of reconstruction.

On Friday last, as is usual, there was a Cabinet meeting. The condition of the South was discussed at that meeting somewhat full and the President expressed his disappointment at the course pursued by the prominent men of the South. The opinion of one of the very best members of the Cabinet, after that meeting, is that there will be no controversy this winter between the majority in Congress and the President. There have been no Cabinet quarrels, yet as is well known, Mr Stanton and Mr Harlan are what is termed sorehead[illegible] on the subject of the restoration of the rebel States to their old positions in the Union. This shows that the President's views are not directly in conflict with those of the great body of the party that elected him Vice President.

On the other hand the [illegible] in Congress are moderating their views so that they can meet the President. It will be impossible to make a test of equal suffrage in the Southern States so long as Northern States vote about uniformly against it. But it is generally admitted that the South must give better evidence of sincere loyalty before she will obtain representation in Congress, or the removal of United States troops from her borders.

The French Mexican imbroglio does not materially change. It is whispered at the State Department that Count Montholon, the French Minister, is indignant at the appointment of Gen Logan as Minister to Mexico. Whether it be so or not, it is a fact that the usually insolent Courrier Des Etas Unis, the French Imperialist organ in New York, is very much excited on the subject and undertakes to lecture this Government about it. This paper, it will be remembered, was a sort of rebel organ all through the war, and yet lifts its head in New York to argue against this Government. How long would an American editor be able to retain his personal freedom in Paris after publishing a paper in which Louis Napoleon's foreign policy was daily denounced.

The spirit of the country is getting roused on this subject of French interference in Mexico. There can be no doubt upon the subject. Gen Grant said in New York only last week that he believed it was time the French got out of Mexico, and he was laughed from that moment. He makes no speeches, but states openly to all his friends that he (not pretending to speak for the Government) favors a bold Mexican policy. Mr Seward has informed our Minister at Paris (Mr Bigelow) of the state of public sentiment throughout the country, and he asks France to let Maximilian alone—that is, not to send him any more soldiers. The Government means to be strong on the Pacific coast in case of an emergency, which it does not expect to arise. Everything yet done is purely precautionary, and while Mr Seward remains at the head of the State Department, it is almost certain that we shall have no row with either England or France. For the present there is not a man in the Cabinet so strong as Mr Seward in his position. If there was to be a break up, Mr Seward is the last man who would go.

There is something of a stir here over Gen Baker, the chief detective of the War Department. He has been indicted by the Grand Jury of this district, and he will have to stand trial. Some very interesting facts will come out on the trial. The business of pardon-brokerage has been conducted in a scandalous manner in this city. Women are the most successful agents, and some of them have not the fairest of reputation, I fear. There is a Mrs English, who was a bitter rebel through the war, who lives in state so to speak, upon her pardon fees. She has had wonderful success in obtaining the ear of the President, and obtaining pardons. I presume that so far as the President is concerned all is honest, but some of his assistants are suspected of partiality in the presentation of petitions for pardons to the President. Why a rebel woman living in Georgetown should receive $200 and even $500 for a pardon I cannot see. If General Longstreet (for instance) is to get a pardon at all, why shall he not obtain it himself? It does not look well to say the least, when half a dozen females in this city are able day after day to obtain access to the President and to prosecute their claims with such success that traitors are willing to pay these enormous fees for their work. Gen Baker has been unearthing some of this nefarious work and no doubt in doing it has transgressed the law. He has long been employed by the War Department on the principle that a rogue under pay is the best man in the world to catch rogues. The President is a little indignant for he says this last business looks as if the War Department were setting detectives upon his track. Mr Stanton of course denies this—the object was to expose the guilty pardon brokers. He has succeeded in calling the attention of the nation to the subject and the female pardon agents will have to conduct their business more carefully in the future.

I saw Chief Justice Chase at the Capitol yesterday and heard him express his views on the subject of the trial of Jeff. Davis. He says he has [illegible] in the publication of the correspondence between the President and himself upon the proposition to try Davis at Richmond. Mr Chase [illegible] very decidedly upon the ground that the Circuit Court cannot sit under the protection of bayonets or in other words where martial law prevails. The point he makes for lawyers rather than the public.

For the financial condition of the country Mr Chase expresses himself in a hopeful manner. If proper guarantees are taken before Southern members are admitted to representation, such a thing as repudiation will be impossible. Speaking of the prompt return to specie payment with reducing the amount of currency in circulation, Mr Chase said it could not be done.

Several New York financiers have of late been tendering their advice to the Secretary of the Treasury upon this point. How shall the country be brought back to specie payment? The most eminent of these counsellors is John D. Van Buren (not John Van Buren the political trickster), who thinks that there is no necessity for a reduction of the volume of the currency. He advises the Secretary to begin at once to hoard gold and keep at it till he has one or two hundred millions of specie in his vaults—this all to be held as security for the redemption of the legal tender notes. He argues that this will gradually increase the value of paper to the standard of coin. It sounds to me like quackery and I don't think the Secretary of the Treasury will make any recommendation of such a measure. He will be very slow, very cautious, in his movements, but they will tend towards a reduction of the currency.

The interests of the Pacific Coast will be cared for more thoroughly in Congress this winter than ever before. The overland trip of the Colfax party has called the attention of the country to the subject, and Congress will be more ready, I think, than ever before to grant such measures as the members from the Pacific Coast may demand or ask. Mr Henderson, of Oregon, is here and has taken rooms for the winter. Mr Bidwell, of California, has been here and will shortly return. He is temporarily absent at the North.

The Overland Mail Company have taken a furnished house in the fashionable part of the town—in the west end—and intend evidently to entertain their friends during the session! Somebody says it was taken "for lobbying purposes," but I presume it is simply to coax men, not particularly interested in the Pacific coast matters to give their attention to the subject for a short time. This is the trouble—members of Congress will not look at a subject, unless it is one of the great issues of the day, or connected in some way with their own Districts. This is one reason why measures introduced by members from the Pacific coast, are so often lost. They lack consideration. There is a better prospect for the coming winter.

I hear at the Post Office Department that there is a fair prospect that hereafter the mail between Sacramento City and Portland will be carried regularly. The letting in sections was done entirely for the benefit of men of small means. Heretofore there has been but one bid, (for the whole route) and that was $300,000. The Department is determined to give men of more moderate means a chance. But in case all the sections are not taken, of course the bids will fall through. The purpose of the Postmaster General is to break down a monopoly and give to the people of Oregon regular mail facilities.

Mr Henderson was at the P. O. Department a few days since, and was fully satisfied with the explanations of the official whom he saw. Oregon is not to be deprived hereafter of a daily mail from California. In speaking above of the arrival of Mr Henderson I should have stated that Mr Williams is here and has taken rooms for the winter.

Gen Grant has been lionized in New York within the last three or four days to a degree one would think anything but pleasant to him. His popularity seems to be on the increase, and already the politicians begin to talk of him as the next Republican candidate for the Presidency! He is very moderate in his views, is one of the most magnanimous of men, and in all his sympathies is a Republican. It is ridiculous at this early day to begin to talk of the next Presidential contest, but the politicians will do it. Gen Grant is not ambitious, and I really believe enjoys his present position more than he would the Presidency. He is to spend the winter here, having purchased a house in the northern part of the city—one of the famous "Douglas Row," where Senator Douglas, Mr Breckinridge, and Mr. Rice, of Minnesota, used to live. The General will be one of the most prominent men in Washington society this winter.

ONCE A WEEK.

THE OLD LEAVEN.—The Southern leaders appear to receive the [illegible] of the President with very bad grace, and many of them make the most wry faces when swallowing his policy. The Mobile Register and Advertiser, for instance, whose editor has just been transferred from the service of Jeff. Davis to the blessings of loyalty, says, in his issue of the 21st of November, that the "next Legislature will be called upon to pass upon the so-called constitutional amendment;" that "it ought to be called a unconstitutional abrogation," that "it is a crawling and covert attack of the radicals upon the [illegible] of the State rights principle;" that "it is a sham;" that "it stinks a rank heresy in the nostrils of every Alabamian and State rights man; that "the amendment, as expounded by the Sumners and the Wilsons, clothes the Federal Congress with power over the black code in the States;" that "the war, God knows, has made inroads enough upon the [illegible] of the fathers," and that "there must be a stop somewhere and soon." Here we have it. "State rights"—the old [illegible] war cry of "State rights." This gentleman evidently forgets his position. He thinks that he is in the "Union as it was" in the good old times of Pierce and Buchanan. He forgets that he remains in Mobile by the saving grace of Andy Johnson, and that this amendment is one of his inflexible conditions of Southern restoration, and that the Legislature of Alabama must ratify it before she can be readmitted to Congress upon his reconstruction.

SOUTHERN EDUCATION.—The Vicksburg Herald, a fair specimen of the style of Southern newspapers, now prevalent, says:

> "If any radical was ever black enough in his views to suppose the people of Mississippi would endow "negro schools," for their ilk to [illegible] the rising ebonish hatred of his former master, but best friend; then such chaps had better take to marching on with John Brown's soul—they will hardly reach the object of their desires short of the locality where John is kicking and waiting. The State has not opened them, nor has she the slightest idea of doing anything of the kind."

No man of sound judgment was ever foolish enough to suppose that the Bourbons of the South would educate either the poor whites or the blacks, or do anything except to grumble at and resist every progressive movement; and as this fact grows daily more clear, it becomes certain that Congress should refuse all political rights to such reactionists, and leave them as powerless to do evil as they are unwilling to do good.

CHERISH THEIR MEMORY.—The New York Times, in publishing ten closely printed columns of the names of New York soldiers murdered at Andersonville, says:

The Andersonville obituary record, which we publish to day, is one of the saddest ever published. It is well enough to forget the past, if forgetting is not a crime against the memory of the martyred dead. The story of Andersonville can never be forgotten. Here, in this bald list of names and dates, we have that story. There is no other such infamy in the times of civilization. While we were feeding, clothing and nursing hordes of ragamuffins captured in Davis' service, here were our poor loyal soldiers murdered by the thousand. These things ought not to be forgotten until we know that hereafter it shall be impossible for men bearing the American name to be participants in such crimes.

A HEALTHY SIGN.—The Richmond press keeps up a lusty demand for labor. This is a wonderful change from the days when Virginia was wont to make merchandise of her surplus labor, by sending her slaves to the markets of the Cotton States. Virginia finds now that she not only needs all the labor she has in her population of freedmen, but that she requires a large importation to enable her to develop her vast resources. A healthier sign than this could hardly be given. It betokens a vitality in her industrial system which apparently but needed the removal of the curse of slavery to enable her to take the rank among her sister States to which her superabounding natural wealth entitled her. But for slavery it is probable that Virginia to-day would have been the most populous State in the Union. She now invites free labor, and we know of no community where such labor will find better recompense for the next twenty years at least.—New York Times.

A large portion of the credit of the New Jersey victory is due to General Kilpatrick. He entered into the fight at an early day, stumped the State from end to end, and fought the rebel sympathizers with as much vim as he showed in the field in fighting, the rebels themselves. His energy, talents and his eloquent speeches, have been instrumental in bringing out the full Republican vote and in rousing up the spirits of a party heavily depressed by many serious defeats. He had able helpers it is true, but he initiated the work and infused that life into the campaign which led on to victory.

SOUND SOUTHERN DOCTRINE.—A paper published in Texas under the title of the San Antonio Express, after declaring its principles and purposes, concludes as follows: "We can aim at and read our duty in three lines—First, Educate the people; second, Give dignity to labor; third, Plant upon immovable foundations the liberty of speech and of the press. Do these, 'and all things shall be added unto us.'"

The New Election Law

The Albany Journal and Oregon Statesman persist in misunderstanding the new election law. This may be owing in part to their not having received true copies of the act. Both papers have published the law in an imperfect form instead of giving it as amended and passed by the Legislature. We publish to-day the official copy. On comparison, it will be found to differ essentially from those published by the journals above mentioned.

It is complained that the Legislature "repealed the only law which offered any objections to the rebel vote." Allusion is here made to the act of October 21, 1861. The first section of this act provided in broad terms that no person who had served the so-called Southern Confederacy should be entitled to vote in Oregon. The last section provided that those who had once aided the rebellion, but who at a subsequent time had availed themselves of the amnesty offered by President Lincoln, should not be excluded from suffrage. In the first place it may be remarked that this act was thought by our best lawyers to have been in conflict with the State Constitution. Again, it would have excluded from voting no person who, even if he had aided the rebellion, had afterwards received amnesty or pardon. Further, it depended in almost every case on the word or oath of the individual himself to establish the fact of his hostility to the Government and his service in the rebellion. For these reasons, and on account of other defects and difficulties which it would be easy to mention, the act of Oct. 21, 1861, was practically inoperative; and we seriously question whether it would have been the means of excluding a dozen rebels in the whole State from the polls in any election.

The oath of loyalty required by the new law is even more stringent than that of the act which has been repealed. Besides, it is made the duty of the judges of election to require the prescribed oath to be taken by any person not known to them who may offer his vote. And further, if any one applying to vote is challenged by a lawful voter, the judges are required to administer the oath before the applicant can be allowed to vote.

But the complaint is that all this does not prohibit pardoned rebels from voting. True, it does not; nor could any law be framed which would exclude those rebels who have been pardoned. Pardoned rebels must be allowed to be citizens, and our organic law clearly defines the privileges of [illegible] in our State.

The new law repeals the fourth section of the act of October 13th, 1862, entitled an "act requiring the oath of allegiance to be taken in certain cases." This section provided as follows:

"That whenever at any general or special election in the State, any person offering to vote at such election is challenged for disloyalty by any voter, such vote shall be rejected unless the applicant first takes the oath prescribed in this act."

The oath here referred to is much more comprehensive, and far more binding than the one provided in the new law. Moreover, the old law left the business of challenging entirely to the [illegible] who might happen to be at the polls, whereas the present act, as before stated, makes it the sworn duty of the judges of election to administer the oath of allegiance or loyalty.

The Journal thinks that the law is repealed which requires the oath of allegiance to be taken before any person can draw money from the Treasury. This, as we stated last week, is an error. We have quoted above the only section of the act of October 13th, 1862, which has been repealed. Section two of this act is yet in full force and still provides that no one shall draw money from the State or a county unless he shall have first subscribed to the oath required in [illegible]

The Statesman says that the Legislature in passing the act which will shortly go into operation, were not aware of what they were doing. If this be true, the members were guilty of an inexcusable dereliction, or were greatly lacking in that needful article, common sense. The act was not slipped through without sufficient investigation. This Legislature gave us the best law which under the circumstances, could have been passed. It gives no rebel the right to vote, but leaves it with the Constitution to define the qualifications of electors. The act does not violate the Amnesty Proclamation of May 29th 1865. It goes just as far in the right direction as any law that could have been devised.

For ourselves, we have no hesitation in saying that we deeply regret that our Constitution as it now stands will not allow us to disfranchise every rebel in our State who has fought against the Government, whether he has received pardon or not. It is out of no tenderness for the miscreants who have sought to destroy this Union that we argue against an attempt to deprive them of the elective franchise. We regret also that the amnesty has been so general. But the people of Oregon have to take these things as they are and shape their acts accordingly. Our Constitution must be obeyed until it shall be changed. It is better to conform to it strictly in all things than to practically disregard it by enacting any law in violation of it—even though such law be intended to mete out to rebels such punishment as they unquestionably deserve.

HENRY WINTER DAVIS.—The dispatches announce the death of this eminent Baltimorean. His death is a great national loss. No other Marylander did so much as he for his State and the Government throughout our great struggle. His splendid talents were devoted to his country through the whole of the dark period through which we have passed. He was a member of the last Congress, and was one of the most active and efficient of the distinguished men in that body.

WHAT GAIN?—The newspapers say that Jenkins the newly elected Governor of Georgia is the right man in the right place having been only a "moderate secessionist" throughout the war. Governor Brown, his predecessor, has the same thing to recommend him. What then does the country gain by having Brown deposed and Jenkins installed?

AFFIRMED.—The Supreme Court of Missouri has affirmed the constitutionality of the oath of loyalty required to be taken by all clergymen of the State before they can perform their ministerial duties. It is decided that the test oath is not in the nature of an ex post facto law, because it is not prescribed as a punishment for any past offence but for future protection. The rebels and "conservatives" of Missouri have small chance of regaining political power in that State.

WHAT THE COPS SAID.—In the late contest in New York, the Copperheads resorted to every argument to secure a vote. Here is one of the Conservatives:

A Republican victory in New York will force President Johnson to abandon his conciliatory policy and follow the footsteps of Chase, Sumner, Stevens and Phillips.

The Republican victory came. How will Johnson read it?

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 30

End of the Ketchum Case

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—Edward B Ketchum was to-day arraigned in the Court of General Sessions and sentenced by Recorder Hoffman, to be confined in the State Prison for four and a half years. The prisoner entered the court room accompanied by his father and three brothers. His face was deathly pale but he exhibited no trepidation though his features showed that he had endured much mental suffering. His father's [illegible] ations of grief were intense and his brothers were visibly affected by the doom. The room was crowded with spectators when the Clerk of the Court asked what he had to say why judgment should not be pronounced against him. Ketchum replied in a faltering tone, nothing. The Albany Argus says Horace Greely, Geo Opdyke, David Dudley Field and Wm Dodge went to Albany a few days since to urge upon Gov. Fenton the pardon of young Ketchum. They were fortified by letters from Chief Justice Chase and other prominent persons in national politics. Persons injured by Ketchum and all creditors with one exception unite it is said in urging a pardon. It is also alleged that Ketchum's testimony was used in suits involving over a million dollars and that by his conviction and consequent disqualification as a witness much injustice would be done.

A majority of the new committee on banking and currency are known to agree with Comptroller Clarke in opposing any further inflation of the currency.

Bill to Revive the grade of General—Yulee's Treachery

CHICAGO Dec 30.—A special dispatch says the bill to revive the grade of General which was introduced in the House by Washburne of Illinois was prepared with the knowledge and concurrence of General Grant.

The Government has obtained possession of Senator Yulee's letter, written in January 1861 in which he revealed a conspiracy that was on foot among the Southern Congressmen who in secret caucus resolved that the Southern States should be urged on to secession while the Representatives should hold their seats until the 4th of March following.

The Tribune's Paris correspondent says that General Schofield remains in Paris. There can be no doubt but that he is here on highly important business, although he may have no written instructions.

The several members of the Joint Reconstruction Committee have gone to various points South to feel the pulse of the Southern people.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—The Etna and America sailed for Liverpool to-day, taking $230 000 in specie.

A private telegram from Morehead City, N C yesterday, says the steamer Gaston for New York, struck at Cape Lookout on the night of the 26th, and went to pieces. Fifty four persons were on board. The Captain and thirteen men were saved; the rest were lost. The steamer is a total wreck.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—The Commercial's Washington special says that Commodore Shubrick will be President of the Court Martial for the trial of Raphael Semmes.

WASHINGTON, Dec 30.—It appears from official announcement that the people of North Carolina have declared null and void the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 10 917 against 1947. 2 527 votes were cast to ratify the ordinance for prohibiting slavery, and 3,650 to repeal it.

Great Suffering on the Plains

ST LOUIS, Dec 30.—Reports of suffering on the plains are confirmed. Seventy soldiers of the 17th Infantry and thirty of the 17th Wisconsin were badly frozen, and have been left in the hospital. The road is blocked with snow beyond Ft Kearney.

The Legislature of Colorado has adjourned on the subject of ratifying the constitutional amendment. The vote stood thirty six in favor and one against it.

Canadian Cabinet.

TORONTO, C W, Dec 30.—Hon. Ferguson Blair accepted the vacant seat in the Cabinet, vice Brown resigned. There will be no change in the policy of the Government regarding the confederation and other important questions.

Death of Artemus Ward.

WOOSTER, Mass, Dec 30.—An inquest held on the bodies of Artemus Ward and wife found dead at their residence, on Friday morning resulted in a verdict of "died from inhaling coal gas."

The Prisoners at Fortress Monroe.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent says Mrs Clay arrived here on Thursday and was soon after admitted to an interview with her husband, in his prison. She was surprised to find Clay in good health—his confinement not appearing to have injuriously affected him. The health of Jeff Davis is also said to continue good. Mrs Clay will probably remain at Fortress Monroe some time. It is supposed she has given up the hope of getting her husband pardoned.

Death of Henry Winter Davis

BALTIMORE, Dec 30.—Hon. Henry Winter Davis died of pneumonia at half past two o'clock P M.

Martin the Spy Discharged.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—Judge Leonard, in Supreme Court to-day discharged Martin, the accomplice of Kennedy, on a writ of habeas corpus from custody. Martin was then arrested by United States Commissioner on a charge of arson.

Troubles in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec 28.—Three policemen were wounded on Christmas by a gang of excited negroes. Some fifty negroes were arrested, most of whom were armed.

Affairs on the Rio Grande were in statu quo. The liberals up the river are idle.

In Western Texas planters, farmers and freedmen are generally making contracts for the next year satisfactory to both parties. In central Texas prospects are not so good. Planters are discouraged. Gen Gregory is making a tour addressing the freedmen with a view to persuading them to make contracts for labor for next year. There is much complaint about the mail service throughout Texas. It takes seventeen days to go letters from Houston to New Orleans which can be traveled in four days.

Hon John Ray, member of Congress from Louisiana writing on the 5th of December from Washington says he is satisfied the President's reconstruction policy will be abandoned or not carried out at present by the admission of Southern members early this month.

French Withdrawal from Mexico.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—A Washington special says: The statement with reference to the exact meaning of reiterated rumors concerning the withdrawal of the French troops will be likely to receive official confirmation in a few days. When these rumors first appeared they came direct from France. There was a condition attending the withdrawal and that condition with the assurance from this Government to Napoleon that his empire and Emperor in Mexico should not be disturbed. Report says the pledge had been given by our Government that no interference would be allowed and the reason of the administration guaranteeing non interference is no doubt the result of the belief that the Liberals will be able to make short work of Maximilian when once the French bayonets are withdrawn but we should not be too sure of this. Maximilian will still have a good number of Austrian and Belgian troops to fall back upon. Besides these, he has a contingent of 2 000 to draw upon yearly for several years to come. With these he may—if the United States pursuing a hands off policy—be able to establish his sway. If he does there will be no other course but to recognize him. The Government is committed to its diplomatic correspondence to this recognition when it is shown that the Mexican people have accepted the new order of things and Napoleon counts confidently on recognition taking place.

Tornado in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Dec 30.—The latest information from Ruskin states that the loss of life and property is less than first reported. Only one white lady and one negro man were killed and seven negroes more or less seriously injured. The tornado struck the southwestern part of the town, uprooting trees and destroying six or seven houses and a portion of High street factory. Several houses in the southwesterly direction were leveled to the ground.

Cholera in Spain.

WASHINGTON, Dec 30.—The United States Consul at Port Mahon writes to the State Department that the cholera has recently disappeared from that Province. He says that the mortality in Spain has been far greater than was ever before known.

General News.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—The U. S. steam sloops Tuscarora and monitor Monadnock put into port Cayenne on the 27th of November to coal. All aboard the vessels in good condition.

WASHINGTON, Dec 30.—The War Department has issued an order this morning directing the Provost Marshal to turn over to the Navy Department temporarily the old Capitol prison for the confinement of Capt Semmes. No order has yet been given by the Navy Department for placing him there. His trial will be commenced about the 11th of January.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—Gov. Curtin's friends write from Savannah that there is a steady improvement in his health. It has been steadily [illegible] recovering.

ARRIVAL OF THE BARK A. A. ELDRIDGE.—The bark A. A. Eldridge, Capt. Abb it, ... days from H n lulu ar rived last evening, consigned to M Cronen Mc [illegible] & Co. Her cargo consists of 2,5.3 kegs [illegible] ... 350 bales pulu ... The Eldridge left Hon lulu [illegible] and experienced light weather until [illegible] 19th, the first part was a heavy gale [illegible] west, with a heavy irregular sea. The [illegible] parts of the day were [illegible] but going down. [illegible] while shaking close reef [illegible] the yard, striking on the rail and bounding [illegible] Hatches [illegible] for boat lowered away and sent to pick him up [illegible] endeavoring to launch the whale boat she swamp[illegible], broke adrift and was lost. At 8 a. m. were [illegible] at 8.30 picked up quarter boat, the search being [illegible]. Hoisted boat aboard, wore ship and at 10 [illegible] set main sail. On the 22d made the bar at the [illegible] of the Columbia; stood off in succession of gales, [illegible] days, then crossed on the 1st, and arrived in tow [illegible] steamer John H. Couch last evening. The lost [illegible] shipped at Honolulu, and no other name was known than Emanuel.

[illegible] TRICK.—The Chif of December 30th has the [illegible], which will apply to all sections. Yesterday [illegible] woman was to be tried in the Police Court for [illegible] an abandoned woman. When the case was called, [illegible] appeared in court and took a seat beside her [illegible]. After a jury had been empanneled and a plea [illegible] not guilty" entered, the people's witness took the [illegible] and began to give his testimony. When asked to [illegible] the defendant, he discovered that another woman [illegible] brought into Court in place of the one that [illegible] to have been there. He had taken a memorandum [illegible] in marks upon the face and hands of his prisoner [illegible] him identify her, and was therefore able to detect [illegible] trick that was attempted to be played. The woman [illegible] her bondsmen stoutly maintained that she was the [illegible] accused of the crime, and the officer was as posi[illegible] that she was not. Of course the case could not [illegible] and Justice was compelled to acknowledge himself [illegible]. This is a favorite trick with the Chinese, and [illegible] usually succeeds, as very few Americans are [illegible] to tell one China face from another. The only [illegible] offenders, appears to be to refuse [illegible] them to bail, for the moment they get out they [illegible] to work to defeat the law by some trick of which we [illegible] know nothing about."

[illegible].—The steamship Sierra Nevada [illegible] Connor, arrived in the Columbia river Tuesday [illegible] two days from San Francisco, with a heavy [illegible]. In ascending the river she ground[illegible] and her papers reached this city by [illegible] at 1½ o'clock yesterday morning. The follow[illegible] passengers:

THE "DEMOCRACY'S" SUPPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.—During the past few month's the "Democracy" have been professedly supporting the President—though they oppose all his principal measures. The New York News makes short work of this pretence of its party leaders and shows the true cause of their pretended admiration of Andrew Johnson. It thus addresses the President:

The Democratic Conventions endorse and Democratic organizations support you, because unfortunately it is their nature to [illegible] wants, and political organizations bend before any shrine that represents a power which they have to conciliate by their offerings. The Democracy are not free from the arts and intrigues of political parties. In your hour of authority they will be your friends so long as they have any hope of obtaining the benefit of that authority. In your hour of importunity they will be your friends only so far as you have given proof of your devotion to their principle. We need not tell you that the organs of the Democratic party vilified you up to the moment when they discovered that you were not under dictation of their enemies, and then they were transformed into your most earnest encomiasts, in the hope of securing to themselves the influence that you withheld from the adverse party.

Here the News "tells on" its party. It plainly avows that all these "Democratic" professions of friendship for the President arise only from a desire to make him their instrument and turn him to party account. In this, at least, the News is quite honest. But the "Democratic" journals generally—what of their deceitful professions? In trying as they do to mislead and deceive everybody, we can imagine them soliloquizing after the manner of one of the characters in Shakspeare's "Winter's Tale"—thus: "What a fool honesty is, and truth his sworn brother, a very simple gentleman! But though "Democratic" politicians try to make honesty a dunce, the people are not such great fools as to be caught by those whose treachery they have so often proved.

A SPECIMEN.—Old Buchanan, in his book says that his pet Secretary, Floyd, did not send arms to the South to aid the then expected rebellion! This may be taken as a specimen of the shameful untruthfulness of the whole book. It is almost inconceivable how the disgraced old man—known though his name is, as synonymous with falsehood and unfaithfulness—can have the assurance to deny what every one of his countrymen knows to be a fact. The transfer of these arms to the South, was a feat which Floyd openly boasted of. All know that the Northern arsenals, though previously stored with weapons, were empty at the beginning of the war and that the national armies had to lie in inactivity for months for want of arms, while the rebels were well supplied. Joseph Holt, Floyd's successor in the War Department, announced that the North had been disarmed and the nation's muskets and cannon had been sent South; and this efficient and patriotic Secretary actually stopped large quantities of arms then in transit for the rebels. Pollard (rebel) in his history of the war, says that "a scarcity of arms in the South was anticipated, and provided against by the timely act of one man. Before retiring from the War Department, Secretary Floyd had transferred from Northern to Southern arsenals 115 000 muskets of the most approved pattern, thus enabling the South to meet her antagonist on equal grounds." The old "Public Functionary" now contradicts the entire mass of testimony on this subject, both from the North and South. All his utterances consist in misrepresentation, and like Autolycus, he will not tell the truth because he determines "to be constant to his profession."

The financial condition of the United States is thus viewed from an English stand-point—Anglo American (London) Times:

We should be accused of extravagance if we were to write as they deserve of the astounding mineral and agricultural resources of the country. Take the coal and iron trade alone. The coal area of Great Britain is 5,400 square miles; that of the single State of Pennsylvania, upwards of 12,000 square miles, or more than double that of Great Britain. Coal and iron are the foundation of England's greatness, and in both these resources England is surpassed by the State of Pennsylvania. It is true that these great interests are not fully developed, but the ratio of their progressive development for the last ten years has been astonishing beyond all computation. The United States are also increasing in population beyond the wildest conjectures of the dreamers a few years ago. No one who knows anything of the great agricultural and mineral resources of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and of the vast tide of emigration constantly pouring into these regions can doubt that the country will continue to increase in population even in excess of its present ratio, which within three decades will give it a population of 100,000,000 and upwards. And yet there are some who say that America cannot pay her debts.

NOT A COMPLIMENT FOR MCCLELLAN.—Heros Von Borcke, a foreigner who served as Chief of Staff with Gen. Stewart, is writing reminiscences of the War for Blackwood's Magazine. In one of his letters, speaking of the battle of Malvern Hill, he says:

For the first time at Malvern Hill, in the progress of the American war, was it satisfactorily shown how important in a battle is the concentration of a large number of pieces of artillery upon one point, and the army of Gen McClellan was only saved from utter destruction by sixty guns, which, being very favorably posted in his center, poured dismay and death into our attacking columns. The effect was more disastrous than had been before produced by artillery. In this battle our losses were very heavy, and I may say that the victory was ours only from the ignorance of our position on the part of the enemy, who retreated exactly at the moment when he had gained the most important success.

AN ACKNOWLEDGED FACT.—"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again;" not so the thousands of worthless compounds thrust before the public as specifics. Nowell's Pulmonary Syrup having stood the test of opposition and prejudice, while on trial at the bar of public opinion, now stands pre-eminent as the greatest known remedy for all affections of the chest and lungs. Use it.

The Empire of Brazil

The empire of Brazil is very far indeed from being the compact country it appears on the map and its immense extent renders the want of rails more seriously detrimental to its prosperity. So difficult is it to travel in the interior of the empire that a very long time is occupied in the transmission of a dispatch from the seat of Government to the most distant provinces and the return of the messenger. Practically all communication between the capital and the immense basin of the Amazon is by sea and until recently there was immense difficulty in passing from the cities on the coast to the dwellers on the highest plateaux and a good deal of danger, the forests which intervene being occupied by wild beasts and Indians.

Don Pedro II, D'Alcantra is the second Emperor of Brazil and was born at the palace of San Christovao, in the outskirts of Rio December 2d, 1825. His early studies were directed by the venerable Jose Bonifacio Andabra often called the Franklin of Brazil, a wise and learned statesman and scholar. He found in young Pedro an apt scholar, and to him Brazil is in part indebted for her present liberal government. Very early in life the Emperor showed signs of uncommon ability and rare discernment which characterises his later years. In 1840 he was called upon to ascend the throne and assume his full prerogative. He was then only 14 years of age.

It must be admitted that Don Pedro II fully comprehends the vastness of the resources of the country he governs, and that he has set to work in the right way to develop them. The great purpose of his life seems to be to elevate the Brazilians to the position of a free people. During his reign Brazil has taken gigantic strides in material progress. She has already six important railroads and among them some master pieces of engineering; many fine macadamized turnpikes, a semi monthly line of first-class sea-going steamers running from the Amazon and the La Platta, touching at all the principal points on the coast, numerous small coast lines, and steamers running the entire length of the navigable Amazon, also, steamboats on almost every navigable river of the Empire. Nearly all these enterprises are subsidized. The capital—Rio Janeiro—possesses much of the improvements to be found in European or North American cities. The literary and scientific institutions of Brazil rank very high. Throughout the entire length and breadth of the Empire the rights of individuals are guaranteed; there is perfect liberty of speech; the press is free; all religions are tolerated; nearly all the officers selected by the people; and, though the form of government is monarchical, the people are as free as it is possible to be with safety to themselves.

Don Pedro is considerably over six feet in height, [illegible] well developed, with handsome German features and a fine eye. In his habits he is simple and untiringly industrious. He is a fine scholar, and cultivates assiduously the arts and sciences, and is a warm patron of scientific and literary institutions. Brazil owes to him a system of free public schools, which has no [illegible] outside of the United States. He is a warm friend of religious toleration, and has given his personal aid to erect Protestant chapels for the German colonists. He is an admirer of American writers, and is thoroughly acquainted with our literature. Last year he sent to Whittier an autograph translation of the "Cry of the Lost Soul."

The Emperor is a fine conversationalist, and speaks fluently six languages, is a thorough classical scholar, and a good topographical engineer. The [illegible] ordered transportation to be furnished Agassiz and his party over all the Government lines in the empire, and placed at his disposition a [illegible] to explore the Amazon. The Emperor's ideas of the abolition of slavery are well known. On the occasion of the marriage of the Imperial Princess he liberated a large number of slaves. Within the last ten years, the number of [illegible] more than one million [illegible] liberal laws; so that to-day, [illegible] there are not more than [illegible] of slaves in the empire.

The slaves are of every hue, from the deep [illegible] to the sallow complexion of the [illegible] himself, and but for the [illegible] would have [illegible] their masters—as indeed they [illegible]—and then we [illegible] a servile war and a repetition of the horrors of St. Domingo and Hayti. The [illegible] not have the slightest idea that there is any [illegible] in holding a fellow man [illegible]. The State itself, we are told, possesses [illegible] as it derives a portion of its revenue [illegible] convents have them and hold them as the property of the particular saint to [illegible] the Found[illegible] says slaves as wet nurses; and [illegible] doctors are said to buy [illegible] with the chance of restoring them [illegible] by their sale. It must be said that none of these [illegible] their slaves with animosity. They [illegible] with the same kind of feeling as that with which we look upon a horse or an ox, [illegible] with [illegible] indulgence that in [illegible] is better than the [illegible]. Besides the Sunday, he has [illegible] days in the course of the year on which [illegible] himself, and in many cases he gets [illegible] to cultivate his own little [illegible] the Saturday also. The cities are full of slaves [illegible] Walking in the [illegible] says, you meet with [illegible] of their number [illegible] or shells, [illegible] moving with [illegible] several in this [illegible] Brazilians who [illegible] their lives complain [illegible] it to be [illegible] the first of this [illegible] that it had to [illegible] and their dusky sisters, and [illegible] quite painful to [illegible] of their music and [illegible] like a miracle, and gave the physiologist an opportunity of arriving at [illegible] conclusions respecting the [illegible] of the nervous system over the physical. A very large proportion of the colored population [illegible] are free; those who are slaves being for the most part at liberty to employ themselves as they please, subject to the payment of a fixed sum per day to their owners, the rest of their earnings being at their disposal, and as the [illegible] seldom exceeds $1, [illegible] them to [illegible] or other [illegible] are at full liberty to cultivate [illegible] if they feel disposed, the man who [illegible] them being under no apprehension of [illegible] a dressing of tar and feathers or a gratuitous ride on a rail for so doing.

The Empress, Donna Theresa, is the sister of the late King of the Two Sicilies. She is a lady of highly cultivated mind, possessed of all the qualities of a kind and truly noble princess. She is a good mother, and by her numberless charities and personal solicitude for the welfare of the people has endeared herself to the hearts of all the Brazilians.

SOUTHERN ITEMS.—The action of the military authorities at Mobile, in refusing to obey the habeas corpus in the case of Dexter, charged with cotton frauds against the Government, was sustained by the President.

The Mississippi Legislature passed the exemption bill over the Governor's veto. It exempts $8,000 worth of property belonging to the head of a family, child, etc.

Land has been purchased in Lexington, Va., for a home for Gen. Lee. Appeals are being made for money to build the house.

The Raleigh Sentinel says that the small-pox is prevailing in several parts of the State. The authorities have taken steps to prevent the spread of this disease.

MANUFACTURER'S PROFITS.—The editor of the New England Farmer in his last "notes of travel," says:

A stay of four hours at Lowell gave the opportunity to learn that most of the mills are in operation and earning large dividends for stockholders. I was told by a gentleman somewhat conversant with the manufacture of cotton, that on all light cotton goods, a profit of one dollar is made on every pound of cotton used!

LIBBY PRISON AND CASTLE THUNDER.—Libby Prison and Castle Thunder so well known in the history of war, will soon be transformed to storehouses again. Castle Thunder will be evacuated, and what few prisoners there are within its walls will be transferred to Libby prison which now occupies but about one fourth of the building known by that name. The other three fourths are already converted into storehouses, and are filled with produce of all descriptions.

HOW RECONSTRUCTION PAYS.—Ex Gov Cummings, Buchanan's Territorial Executive of Utah who fled from his communion with the Saints to the bosom of the rebellion, was at the Treasury Department November 23, for the purpose of drawing the balance of salary due him at the time of his abandonment of office. He has taken the oath, received pardon, and expects to receive $900 in greenbacks when he will make tracks for Georgia.

The Chicago Times hopes for "the extinction of the descendants of the Pilgrims." The savages two centuries ago hoped for the extinction of the Pilgrims themselves; but Miles Standish and others objected.

SEWARD ON OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS.—In a dispatch to the late Minister Dayton Secretary Seward said he might not improperly improve the occasion by remarking that the Executive Government of this country has no organ in the press and its views and sentiments in regard to France and to all other countries, can be known always by the language of its diplomatic representatives for it instructs their ministers and directs them to speak always frankly and sincerely. A short time before this communication was sent to Dayton Seward wrote to him:

The statements made to you by M. Drouyn de L'Huys concerning the Emperor's intentions are entirely satisfactory if we are permitted to assume them as having been authorized to be made by the Emperor in view of the present condition of affairs in Mexico. It is true, as I have before remarked, that the Emperor's purpose may hereafter change with changing circumstances. We ourselves however are not unobservant of the progress of events at home and abroad, and in no case are we likely to neglect such provision for our own safety as every sovereign State must always be prepared to fall back upon when nations with which they have lived in friendship cease to respect their moral and treaty obligations and our own discretion will be our guide as to how far and in what way the public interests will be promoted by submitting these views to the consideration of M. Drouyn de L'Huys.

THE PARDON MACHINE.—The wheels of the pardon mill at Washington are again all clogged. An immense quantity of applications have accumulated in the State Department under the operation of the late order of the President directing the suspension of the issue of pardon warrants except by special order. On the 21st of November the President ordered that no more [illegible] be issued from the Attorney General's office, thus for the present suspending most of the pardon business of that Department. The Washington Star says about 20,000 pardons have been granted under the amnesty proclamation. Referring to this statement, the New York Times correspondent says the number will not reach 8,000. The suspension is understood to be occasioned by the flagrant breach of faith of those who pledged themselves to good behavior.

Three months ago the existence of a place yclept Diamond City was unknown outside of the confines of Confederate Gulch. A few brush wakiups marked the spot where now stands the third place in point of population, and one of the first in that of buried wealth, in the Territory. It storms—yet heeding not the fury of the maddened element hundreds of houseless persons are busy preparing for themselves shelter from the rigor of winter. Two steam saw-mills (and dozens of Armstrong's patent) can scarcely supply the demand for lumber.—Montana Post.

Florida unlike Georgia and South Carolina, has annulled the secession ordinance. This comes of having a Provisional Governor in that State who talked sound, and not bogus Union sentiments to the people and so brought them up to the mark.

Mr C J Richardson, in a letter to the London Times, says his brother at Woolwich dock yard has shown that petroleum is 30 per cent more powerful than the best coal as steam fuel that it can be burned with ease and without danger.

LAWS OF OREGON.

Passed at the Second Special Session of the Legislative Assembly, held December, 1865.

AN ACT to prevent fraudulent and illegal voting, and to repeal certain laws in conflict therewith.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That at all general and special elections held in this State, it shall be the duty of the judges of such election to administer the following oath to any person offering his vote, unless the person so offering to vote is known to one or more of said judges to possess the qualifications therein set forth, viz:

You, ——, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you are a citizen of the United States, twenty one years of age, and have resided in the State of Oregon six months immediately preceding this election, and ninety days in the district and county immediately preceding the election, and you know of no lawful disqualification that you possess; and that you will support the constitution and laws of the United States, and the government of the United States against all enemies, whether foreign or domestic, and will bear true faith, allegiance and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution or law of any State convention or legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and that you have not voted in any other county or precinct at this election. So help you God. If an affirmation, the words, "under the pains and penalties of perjury," shall be added.

In case the applicant is of foreign birth, and the foregoing oath is not applicable, the following oath in lieu of the foregoing, shall be administered.

You do solemnly swear that you are twenty one years of age, and have resided in the United States one year, and in the State of Oregon during the six months immediately preceding this election, and have declared your intention to become a citizen of the United States, one year preceding this election, conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, and have bona fidely resided in the district and county ninety days next preceding this election, and that you know of no lawful disqualification that you possess; and that you will support the Constitution and laws of the United States and the government of the United States against all enemies, whether foreign or domestic, and will bear true faith, allegiance and loyalty to the same any ordinance, resolution or law of any State convention or legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and that you have not voted in any other county, district or precinct, at this election. So help you God. (Or if an affirmation, to conclude as in the first oath.)

Sec 2. That in case the applicant only wishes to vote for presidential electors or members of congress, so much of the oaths as refers to ninety days' residence in district and county may be omitted. And if he wishes to vote only for district officers so much thereof as refers to county may be omitted, and if for county officers only, so much thereof as refers to district may be omitted.

Sec 3. If any person applying to vote is challenged by a lawful voter the judges of election shall administer one of the foregoing oaths or affirmations to the said applicant, before he shall be allowed to vote.

Sec 4. The aforesaid oaths shall be administered orally.

THE STANDARD
AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863 composed of all the first class players of America it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture be used in all matches for the Championship, as the best and only true tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office and we have lately obtained a patent from the French Government for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ in the construction of our tables a variety of machinery specially made for the purpose by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and a thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player, M Berger has published the following opinion:

New York 2d August 1861.

On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons I am happy to make this declaration.

BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris.

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders must carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The BILLIARD CUE, a journal published in the interest of Billiards and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards sent free on application.

M E HUGHES,

730 Montgomery St San Francisco Cal, is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast to whom all orders should be addressed.

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC SEDATIVE DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
